DEPARTMENT OF ORAL PATHOLOGY & MICROBIOLOGY

Online Lecture: "Diversifying career options after BDS" - Report

The Department of Oral Pathology & Microbiology conducted an online lecture titled "Diversifying career options after BDS" on 21/2/2022 for the batch of Interns. It was a talk delivered by Dr. Kriti Bagri-Manjrekar (Senior Clinical Research Coordinator, Icahn School of Medicine, Mount Sinai; Visiting Scholar, NYU College of Dentistry, New York).

The talk was organized with the sole purpose of assisting the Interns in choosing and diversifying their career options after completing their undergraduate course. The speaker made the Interns aware of the various avenues open to them in the United States of America after they completed their BDS. These included options in the field of clinical dentistry, research, epidemiology, hospital administration etc. She also enlightened them about the various examinations, protocol, and the necessary requirements regarding the same.

A total of 53 Interns and 5 Staff members attended the talk. This was also live streamed on Facebook on the official college page. The talk was well-received and was very beneficial of all the attendees. All the attendees were requested to fill the feedback form after which participation certificates were awarded to them. The speaker was also felicitated with a presentation certificate.
